CLARE VALLEY

Our Story

In 1856, Hugh Reilly a shoemaker from Ireland arrived in the tiny township of Mintaro, in the Clare Valley. Over the next 10 years, Hugh converted the stone barn that had been his home into a cottage. Almost 140 years later, the cottage has been restored to its former glory by distant relatives of Hugh, the Ardill family, and once again it is a hive of activity, and home to Reilly's Wines.

In 1993, we started from humble beginnings where the first vintages of wines were processed on the front porch of the Cottage. The winery has steadily grown over the years, quickly outstripping the capacity of the cottage, and production was moved to a state-of-the-art facility in nearby Leasingham in 2000.

Reilly's Cottage is now our Cellar Door where you can sample crisp, clean Rieslings and big, bold reds.
